SPECIAL TRAIN FROM CRANBROOK SATURDAY

The amount of interest taken by music lovers and artists of the Cranbrook-Kimberley district in the "Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival" this year may be judged from the fact that word has been received from the Cranbrook committee, stating that a special train has been chartered to make the trip from Cranbrook to Blairstown and return on Saturday, the 28th, and that at least 150 persons will be brought in from that point. It is also possible that this train will stop at intermediate stations and bring along any who desire to avail of it.

We understand that the train will be made up of three or four coaches, and that the return trip will start shortly after the finals on Saturday night.

Cranbrook and Kimberley are contributing a large and very important part of the festival programme, in the form of vocal, instrumental and other items, probably chief of which will be choirs and their accompaniments, over one hundred persons to take part in two extra special events.

With close to 400 entries, the three days' scheduled for the festival will be crammed full, and music lovers of the district are preparing themselves to enjoy the greatest musical treat in their lifetime.

The Cranbrook special is due to arrive here at 8 a.m. on Saturday, leaving Cranbrook about 3 a.m.

The festival is away to a good start, being officially opened at 9 a.m. today in the newly appointed Columbia Hall.

Mr. Burton Kurth, of Vancouver, is official adjudicator.

IN MURPHY'S TRAIL

Not satisfied with the "law as to what the town council should do" should not do, the local union and Murphy would have the audacity to believe that they can control everything and everybody within the town, and perhaps the district. Murphy has repeatedly declared himself as out to fight for the right of free speech and free thought. We claim the same right, provided our speech and thought are in line with what is best; and while ours is in the best interest of the community and district at large, Murphy's is absolutely in the interest of disruption and revolution. Murphy would compel the council to do as he wishes, and at the same time has no more right to pollute the sacred atmosphere of our council chamber without invitation from the council than a skunk has in heaven. Murphy enjoys the privilege of criticizing our public institutions and vilifying and belittling our people from a soap-box (probably his only vested interest in Canada), and there is no thought of a comeback from those offended.

Let anyone oppose Murphy or his pet organizations and you can expect a comeback in the form of riot, boycotting, and even so far as to petition your removal. This latest act is threatened against The Enterprise, and to certain extent the festival, and the statement has been made by some of the unemployed that we are today supporting, and others, that such petition is to be circulated and business people and others in town will be expected (perhaps forced by threat) to sign it. We can only say that any person who would attach his name as an endorser to such a movement by the Reds could no longer be classed as a desirable citizen.

In 1914, it cost the Albert Temperance & Moral Reform League $30,000 to secure the necessary number of signatures to their petition for a province-wide plebiscite on the temperance question.

CAPT. MUNCASTER, FATHER FORMER LOCAL MAN, DIES

Calgary, Oct. 24—Beloved padre of Calgary's war veterans, Captain the Rev. William H. Muncaster died at his home, 1027 First Avenue northwest, early Monday evening, following a short illness.

Born in England in 1855, the late Captain Muncaster came to Calgary some 20 years ago, after entering the ministry in Scotland. When the Great War broke out, he returned to England, and in 1915 became chaplain of a hospital at Orpington, Kent, an institution in which many Canadians wounded in the war recuperated.

He later served as chaplain with the 89th battalion from Calgary, and also served with an imperial unit prior to the end of the war. In 1919, he returned to Calgary, and for some years was pastor of Westmount Presbyterian, now Westmount United church.

Captain Muncaster graduated from the University of Edinburgh and served several years in the Scottish Presbyterian church. He was a life member of the Alberta Military Institute. He also became chaplain of the institute, chaplain of the Second Reserve Battalion of the Calgary branch and of the Alberta command of the Canadian Legion, chaplain of the old G.W.V.A., and chaplain of Colonel Belcher hospital.

He was also a member of the Calgary Ministerial Association, and a Calgary investigator for the Canadian fund.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. Burby, Bragg Creek, and one in England, and two sons, one in Ontario, and the other in school on the Isle of Wight, England. One son, James, was killed overseas after winning the D.C.M. for bravers. His wife predeceased him several years ago.

Capt. Muncaster was the father of Eric Muncaster, formerly a resident of Blairstown and Lethbridge and now living in Montreal. The captain was known to a number in the city and of course his son was well known both in the city and through the "Crows' Nest Pass". Eric Muncaster, on leaving the city for the east, became associate editor of the Montreal Witness. He has been an occasional contributor to the Lethbridge Herald for many years.

Capt. Muncaster was some years ago, before the Great War, pastor of the Blairstown Presbyterian church. —

THOS. STOCKDALE DIES SUDDENLY

The death occurred suddenly at his home in Lethbridge at 1817 Fifth Ave. A., N., on Sunday evening of Thomas Driver Stockdale, aged 55 years, husband of Mrs. T. D. Stockdale, of this city. Deceased had been in normal health until his demise, which is credited to heart failure.

Mr. Stockdale was born in Morley, Yorkshire, England, the son of the late John Stockdale, owner of famous woolen mills in Morley. He came to Canada about 28 years ago and has lived the greater part of that time in Lethbridge. For a time he resided in Hillcrest.

Mr. Stockdale is survived by his wife, but no children survive. He was active in Masonic and Shrine circles—Lethbridge Herald.

Candidates who switched over to the C.C.F. and were defeated in Canadian by-elections, should be given an opportunity to come back into the old fold.

The Salvation Army at Calgary collected a large sum of money on Saturday last for the poor. The mayor left for Calgary on Tuesday.

Shall There Be Peace?

The sudden and startling announcement by Germany on October 14 of her withdrawal from the disarmament conference and of her intention to resign her membership in the League of Nations, coupled with the immediate dissolution of the Reichstag and the calling of a general election to record the approval of the German people to these far-reaching and momentous decisions, threw a new note of alarm and disquietude into a world already distressed with a multiplicity of problems. For months past the leading statesmen of the world have been striving to avert another war, and to bring the nations into agreement in regard to disarmament in order, not only to ease the financial burden which such armaments impose, but to provide assurance of future peace. Germany's precipitate action endangers the success of these efforts which, in many ways, were not so promising in any event.

What can Canada do to help avert such a disaster as another world war? As a matter of fact, can the people of this Dominion do anything? Nothing spectacular perhaps; nothing possibly of a direct nature. Nevertheless, neither Canada nor other nations smaller and less important in the world arena than Canada, are altogether powerless. Each and all have their influence to throw in the scale for or against war. Our own attitude towards other nations is one way in which we will convey to them our stand for war or peace. If we favor extreme nationalistic policies, then in the eyes of other nations we will be regarded in an unfriendly light, and our influence will thus be thrown in the scale of war. If, on the other hand, we steadily and consistently, and in every possible way, display goodwill towards other nations, and prove by our acts that we desire the largest and freest intercourse and co-operation with them; that we recognize their problems and are willing to help in their solution; that we are not taking a purely selfish position in our international relationships; then, Canada will make friends, will extend existing friendships, will increase its influence with other nations, and will be in a position to do much to maintain peace and banish war.

Following the announcement of Germany's intentions, Hon. Arthur Henderson, British chairman of the world disarmament conference in what a Press correspondent at Geneva described as a swift and emphatic phrase, demanded a new effort for disarmament. Mr. Henderson's words are addressed to all peoples and nations. Canada included. Given heed to them is one way in which Canada may at this time help prevent a recurrence of war. It is important that these words should reach as many people as possible, that we aid in the good work by passing them to the readers of this column.

"My message to you," Mr. Henderson told a great peace delegation, "is that disarmament must go on and the League covenant must not be treated as a scrap of paper. It cost ten million dead and twenty million wounded to bring the League into being. We will not break faith with the dead who fell that there should be no more war. We will not suffer the hope that peace will be killed. We will not let the world plunge into barbarism through another world war."

"To you who represent public opinion, I would say, nail your flag to the mast of the League. Make the will to peace stronger and more steadfast than the will to war. Every task or organizing peace must spur us to further efforts. Every delay or defeat must call forth fresh reserve, stubborn and relentless energy."

"We are faced with a situation that makes it necessary to go down to fundamentals. We must think things out afresh. We must search our own hearts and consciences. We must take our stand and tell the world where we stand. The withdrawal of Germany makes it necessary to ask ourselves: 'What are we trying to do?'

"What are the efforts to which the civilized world has been committed since humanity emerged from the greatest and most terrible war in history? The answer is we are endeavoring to organize peace."

The enterprise was not confined to members of the League, he went on, but the League was the core and the basis of a collective peace system. "So long as each nation is the judge of its own rights to free arms and uses its arms as it sees fit, war is inevitable. However just its cause or good its intentions, no government can be trusted to remain loyal to the cause of peace if it flouts the collective peace system to which the world is now pledged. A country which rejects that system, whatever its intentions, is inevitably encouraging its citizens to regard war as legitimate and inevitable."

Mr. Henderson's message calls for a re-affirmation by Canada of its unswerving loyalty to the League of Nations, of its determination to prevent war to the last ounce of its strength, and to promote peace in all its many manifestations.

His concious statement of the enterprise in which the civilized world has been engaged since the end of the Great War, namely, to organize peace, should impress itself on the minds of every Canadian. The need of an assured peace is what the world needs more than anything else. It is more important than banking reform, more important than the abolition of tariffs, more important than starting changes in our political, social and economic system. And it is more important because it is the absence of an assurance of peace, and the fear of war at any moment, that is the cause of the existing world depression. It is that fear of war which is the stumbling block to overcoming the depression. And until that fear is removed the depression will continue regardless of what may be in vogue.

A Lucky Man

Out-of-work and practically penniless, Leonard Large, of Auckland, N.Z., has just received word that he has been left a legacy of $50,000 and part ownership in a private school in England. His grandfather, who was principal of a school near London, died recently and left his entire estate to Large and his uncle.

Any looseness of the Bowels
Is Always Dangerous

When the bowel becomes loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, number complaint and bowel trouble set in, immediate attention should be given and the discharge checked before they become serious.

To check these unnatural discharges there is a remedy in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 85 years. It is rapid, reliable and effective for the cure. A few doses in general all that is required to give relief.

Get it at your drug or general store; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

New Chemical Discovery

Five years of intensive laboratory research by two University of Toronto chemists has produced chemical methods which make possible the production of sulphur from waste gases. Dr. M. C. Boswell, professor of organic chemistry, and G. P. Beal, demonstrator in chemical engineering, are taking out patents on the methods.

Blames Faulty Thermometers

Scientist States Winter Not As Cold

In North As Reported

Winter in the north country is warmer than many people believe. Tall stories of record low temperatures are due, in many cases, to faulty thermometers in the opinion of Dr. J. M. Stagg, leader of the British polar year scientists who spent 13 months at Fort Rae, North West Territories, studying weather conditions.

Dr. Stagg and his colleagues were surprised to find the ground temperature was as high in winter as they found it. He believed inaccurate instruments used in the north made the temperature appear much lower than it was actually. Lowest temperature recorded by them at Fort Rae was 40 below zero.

"PERSONS NOT FAT LIVE LONGEST"

Eminent Physician Declares

In a recent lecture before the American Society of Medicine, a prominent physician stated that persons who aren't fat live the longest.

Common sense confirms this. Insurance companies often reject overweight folk. And the cost of premiums on account of the risk. Fat crowds and weakens body organs—it slows you down and prevents unnecessary exertion. A bad habit of all persons (even rheumatism, acidity, shortness of breath and lassitude) are often associated with fat.

This healthy "little daily dose" of Kruschen keeps you trim. It helps to establish normal and proper body function. It keeps you feeling fine and fit all day long. It stimulates activity takes the place of short-cut indulgence all while you lose excess fat gradually and without discomfort.

Egg Grading Change

New Plan Simplifies Grading Of Eggs
And Changes Old System

In future graded eggs will consist of "A," "B," "C" and "D," according to the size of the egg.

Under the old system, which simplifies the grading of eggs and dispenses the old system of "Specials," "Extra," "Firsts," and "Seconds."

The words "new laid" will be used only in conjunction with grade "A," and the word "fresh" may be applied only to grades "A" and "A."

All eggs possessing the quality of grade "A" may be sold in that grade irrespective of size. However, eggs of different sizes must be packed separately with the size indicated on the container.

Storage eggs will not be permitted to be sold in a higher grade than grade "B."

Are You
WEARY?

Do you find it hard to do things some days? Days when body and brain feel oppressed, incomplete elimination of body waste is probably the cause. You may feel you are not as regular as can be in this respect. You may feel you are not as regular as you would like to be. Eat moderately, sleep plentifully, get lots of exercise, eat fruits and/or twice every week take a bracing walk in the open air. This will help you to draw well and invigorate your whole system. It will help you to get rid of those "headache" days. Get Andrews Liver Salts and take one tablet every day. It is good for the new large bottle. Sole Agents: John A. Houston Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Manitoba Pool Elevators

For another year the Manitoba pool elevators will retain $300,000 owing to the Manitoba Government as working capital. An order-in-council authorizing a continuation of the credit was passed. The sum has been owing by the pool since 1931 and with it as a basis the pool will be able to borrow enough money from the banks to carry on its operations in 1933-34.

Control Milk Prices

A drive of Fraser Valley milk producers for a minimum price for their product was panned at a meeting of representatives from all over the valley. The following resolution was passed: "That we, the Big Union" for the purpose of controlling the price of fluid milk and stabilizing it at 55 cents per pound butter fat in Vancouver, New Westminster and other centres of the T.B. free area."

League Issues Warning

Countries Must Abandon System Of

Closed National Economies

"There seem to be real signs the depression is gradually lifting," reads a cheering report presented to the League of Nations committee on economic and financial questions.

"In industrial countries," said the report, "production is increasing and unemployment is diminishing, while in the aggregate the exports of countries whose economy is mainly devoted to agriculture and mining are gradually improved."

At the same time viable stocks of the great majority of raw materials and foodstuffs about which information is available would appear to be decreasing."

But the report adds warningly,

"The point has again been made with in the League of Nations, that there can be no lasting improvement of the economic situation unless the different countries are prepared to abandon the system of closed national economies which are tending today to become general, and which threaten to stifle international trade."

The report was presented by Auguste Schmidt, Estonian Minister to Rome.

Marconi Preparing New Marvel

Ain of Famous Inventor Is Being

Kept Secret

Guglielmo Marconi is preparing a new marvel, and in this connection a microwave transmitting station of secret design is being erected on the roof of "Electra House," overlooking the Embankment, London. So far the aim of the famous inventor is a profound secret.

Marconi is expected in London, and the new transmitter will be ready for him to experiment with and possibly utilize to reveal to the scientific world a discovery of outstanding importance.

Huge "refectors"—parabolic aerial wire attached to a wooden frame—could be seen from all over London while they were being erected in position.

Inquiries were received in the reply, "We're not revealing the purpose of the aerials yet awhile." Directly beneath the aerials is the suite of offices and laboratories of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., the finest radio research laboratories in London.

Gas In The Stomach

Gas in the stomach, belching, sour water, brash, pain after eating, etc., can be overcome within three minutes if you will take a little Bisulat.

Belonged To Imperial Era

Beautifully Woven Roman Towel
Found In Funeral Urn

Beautifully woven, a Roman towel in a perfect state of preservation has been found in a funeral urn of the imperial era. It is about the size of a modern hand towel, with fringe and was discovered in a tomb at Pompeii.

It is made of unknown persons of the higher class.

The urn had previously served its seal intact throughout the centuries. It contained basil with a base of camphor, and this acted as a preservative for the cloth. Archaeologists think it may prove that it was the custom to wrap up the ashes of the dead before putting them into urns.

Ducks Moving East

Duck hunters of the prairie provinces may be out of luck within a few years. This year more gray mallard ducks have appeared at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., than ever before. The birds have come from the north in large numbers, and it is said the "gray" have changed their migration flight from the prairies to this section of the country.

GERMANY SEES THE FUTILITY OF TALK OF WAR

Frankfort-On-Main, Germany.—A disarmed Germany wants peace.

Peace comes through ardent radio appeal, through headlines and newspaper propaganda. It dominates the proclamation, published all over the nation with which Chancellor Adolf Hitler urges support of this policy in the coming plebiscite.

And talking to the average man one hears little of war. The possibilities of an early war are dismissed for two reasons: First, Germany realizes she would certainly be defeated, and second, the Hitler regime is only at the outset of its internal program.

If he is to retain power, Hitler must make his domestic policies effective.

The writer travelled with a young Nazi storm trooper through almost the entire length of the demilitarized Rhine zone, which extends westward from about 30 miles east of the Rhine. Hitler's storm troops are not usually noted for humility but he was strikingly frank over the prospect.

"It wouldn't be a war," he laughed. "It would be a walk-over. In our storm section we have no war. We say that if the French bombing planes come, well they will have to come, that's all. We can't prevent them."

Holland Importing Nickel

Speculation At Ottawa As To Whether Germany Gets It

Ottawa, Ont.—Speculation over the large shipments of Canadian Nickel to the Netherlands and whether it is finding its way to Germany for armament manufacture, has been aroused by export figures for the first six months of the year.

The Netherlands, through the port of Rotterdam, has taken six times as much Canadian Nickel in oxide and three times as much fine nickel in the first six months of 1933 as in the corresponding period in 1932, according to the figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Rotterdam is a port used extensively by German importers.

There is no word here of government action to curb the nickel export trade although it is realized that Canadian nickel is going directly into the production of the weapons with which a European war now appears to be so near will be fought.

Europe is arming with furious speed and one of the essential means to arm is coming from Canadian mines. Cabinet ministers and senior government officials here decline to comment on the new development. It is explained that so far the purchase of nickel have been carried on by private companies without known governmental assistance.

Fruit For The West

Forty Carloads Of Fruit And Vegetables For The Needy

Toronto, Ont.—Forty carloads of fruit and vegetables have been designated for winter. Care has come from the east by the national relief committee of the United Church of Canada this fall, with other shipments to be planned in the next few weeks.

Thirty-seven carloads from Ontario centres and three from Nova Scotia make up the total to date. Of these, 38 carloads have been designated to Saskatchewan and two to southwestern Manitoba. Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan are also shipping carloads of vegetables to needy districts.

Test Case Again Dismissed

Windsor, Ont.—Archie G. Gignac, Sandwich West township solicitor, was acquitted for the second time on a charge of unlawful establishment and operation of a radio set in his home. The case is regarded as a test of Dominion Government legislation imposing a tax on radio receiving sets.

Utterly Against War

Washington.—President Roosevelt said in an address to the nation that no threat to world peace emanates from the United States, for "we are overwhelmingly against war," and as a nation "we are seeking no additional territory at the expense of our neighbors."

Veteran Mountie Dead

Charlottetown.—Sergt. Malcolm Martin MacIntosh, 89, one of the original 73 men in the Royal North West Mounted Police, now the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, is dead here. He enlisted at Toronto in 1873 and was pensioned in 1898.

Support Stand Of Simon

Says Foreign Secretary Spoke For British Government

Liverpool, Eng.—Vivian Hallam, secretary of war, said the government fully supports Sir John Simon in his stand as secretary for foreign affairs took on disarmament last week in Geneva.

"There is one thing I ought to say because the foreign secretary is hardily able to say it for himself," Vivian Hallam said in a speech.

The foreign secretary, in what he did at Geneva, was not speaking personally, or individually, but as a representative of the British government with the assent of his colleagues."

Sir John and Foreign Minister Von Neurath of Germany, have questioned each other's statements as to developments at Geneva last week. Baron Von Neurath maintained Sir John misrepresented the German arms viewpoint to the United States, and the Briton has offered to publish documents to disprove the accusation.

Visits Downing Street

Lindbergh Calls At Residence Of Ramsay MacDonald

London, Eng.—The mystery surrounding the visit of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh to England reached Downing Street when the aviator walked arm-in-arm from Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's official residence with J. H. Thomas, the Dominions Secretary.

It was understood Mr. Thomas met Lindbergh at a hotel and took him to No. 10, where they remained 20 minutes.

Downing Street secretaries said they knew nothing of a meeting between the premier and the aviator and pointed out the prime minister was engaged in a committee session.

This was the first report of Lindbergh's whereabouts since he inspected Croydon airport after his arrival recently with Mrs. Lindbergh from an airtour of northern European and Atlantic countries.

Motor Car Of Future

Reported From Conventional Lines Is Predicted

Toronto, Ont.—The motor car of the future will have three wheels, two at the front and one at the rear. The motor will also be at the rear, according to Frank S. Spring, of Detroit, in discussing transportation of the future before the Canadian section, Society of Automotive Engineers.

It was not possible to design a perfectly stream-lined car with four wheels, he said. Another revolution in design would be the placing of the two front wheels outside the body proper. Cutting down wind resistance depended upon reducing the front area of a car and this could not be done if the wheels had to be included in the front width of the body design.

He predicted engineers would soon have a car that could take off and fly.

Enforcing Blue Eagle Laws

President Roosevelt Issues Order Covering Compliance With Regulations

Washington.—A two-edged executive order designed to force compliance with the blue eagle provisions of the presidential agreement was signed by President Roosevelt.

The order called for a fine of $500 and six months' imprisonment for any person falsely representing himself to be operating under the agreement or displaying the blue eagle insignia while not complying with its provisions.

The president's order, issued under specific authority of the industry, also authorized Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, to prescribe further rules amending those laid down by the chief executive.

Edmonton-Jasper Highway

Proposal Made To Complete All-Weather Road

Edmonton, Alberta.—A proposal which will mean completion of an all-weather highway from Edmonton to Jasper has been made to the Dominion by the provincial government.

This announcement was made recently by Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works.

The offer is that the province is prepared to supply equipment for federal gravel camps along the highway this winter if the Dominion will give assurance that it will place the 37 miles of grade east of the park boundary in shape to receive gravel as soon as weather conditions permit next year.

Germany Demands Equality

Chancellor Hitler Says His Country Will Not Be Treated As Second Class Nation

Berlin, Germany.—Chancellor Hitler proclaimed that Germany will participate in no conference or agree to no convention "as long as she is not treated equally."

As if to still reports abroad that the reich may return to the disarmament conference and the League of Nations, the chancellor in a speech to his followers maintained:

"Germany is determined in the future to attend no conference, enter no league, agree to no convention, and sign nothing so long as she is not treated equally."

He bid for the co-operation of his countrymen at home and issued a slogan for the Reichstag election campaign the sentence, "We simply refuse to be treated as a second class nation."

Conscience Money

Federal Arbitrator Returns $25 To Dominion Treasury

Toronto, Ont.—In a special dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent, The Mail and Empire tells of a former federal arbitrator from Winnipeg who returned $25 to the Dominion treasury, explaining the money was a fee received some years ago for acting on an arbitration board.

According to the newspaper, the man declared he had taken no time off from his job when he acted as arbitrator and therefore he now desired to return the fee as he accepted it did not harmonize with the teaching of the Oxford group which he had just joined.

MUSSOLINI FOR UNITED FRONT ON DISARMAMENT

Geneva, Switzerland.—Premier Mussolini of Italy was credited with indefatigable efforts to unite four European powers, including Germany, in a discussion of disarmament at Stresa, Italy.

At the same time information from Berne, the Swiss capital, indicated a determination to safeguard Swiss neutrality in the event the peace of Europe was threatened.

The report reached here that the Italian leader had asked other powers regarding the feasibility of further conversations on disarmament.

Poland was said to have been asked whether she would approve such a project and to have replied that she wants all the problems considered at Geneva.

London, Eng.—The full cabinet of 19 ministers deliberated for two hours over the situation arising from Germany's precipitate abandonment of the world disarmament conference.

It was understood the ministers reached no decision on the subject of future policy and the stand to be taken when the arms conference resumes at Geneva. The necessary conversations with other powers are still in progress.

It was learned, however, the cabinet was in full agreement with the stand taken by Sir John Simon, secretary for foreign affairs, in his controversy with Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the German foreign minister, who charged Sir John misrepresented Germany's arms demands to the United States.

A SCENE FROM THE SENSATIONAL REICHSTAG TRIAL

One of the most sensational trials of modern times, that of the five men accused of being concerned in the burning down of the Reichstag at Leipzig, Germany. The central figure, Matthias Van der Lubbe, the young Dutchman, who caused a sensation by his insane laughter, hunger strike and "confession," is shown in the picture standing with his wrists manacled while being questioned by the court.

"Royal Scot" Had Engine Trouble

Alkaline Water Clogging Flues Was Blamed For Delay

Pueblo, Colo.—The "Royal Scot" couldn't take it.

Britain's most famous train was towed into Pueblo five hours late. Known abroad as the train that is never late, the "Royal Scot's" engine developed trouble near Eads, Colo. The gradient was too great, and continual divide began near Eads.

In the charge of the train said alkali water placed in the locomotive in Kansas and the kind of coal which was used had been the cause of the locomotive's trouble. They said the front end of the engine became stopped up, the firebox was clogged with clinkers and the fire sprang leaks.

The train left under its own power for Denver, where it will be put on exhibition. A giant mountain type of engine was following to give it a boost if any more trouble developed.

The delay, the crew said, was the first in the train's 70 years of operation.

Gasoline Sales Higher

Regarded At Ottawa As Sign Of General Activity

Ottawa, Ont.—Sales of gasoline in Canada in July this year exceeded June and were also higher than in July of last year, reports issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics revealed. The amount of gasoline consumed is generally regarded as an indication of general activity.

Sales of gasoline in Canada during July advanced to 56,490,000 gallons from the preceding month's total of 49,293,000 gallons and the July, 1932, sales of 51,551,000 gallons.

Imports of natural gasoline from the United States during July amounted to 3,619,847 gallons, valued at $80,749 as compared with 3,678,771 gallons worth $151,684 imported in June. Gasoline lighter than .825 specific gravity at 60 degrees temperature imported in July totalled 857,610 gallons appraised at $92,495.

Compromise In Wage Cut

Report In Railway Circles That Agreement Has Been Reached

London, Ont.—Reports were current in railway circles here that a settlement had been effected in the running trades dispute with Canada's two major railways involving a second 10 per cent. cut in the basic wage rate.

Rumors were in circulation that the second 10 per cent. cut would be rescinded on November 1, and the first on May 1 next year. It was said also part of the money lost by members of the running trades through the second cut would be refunded to them and that the rest would be apportioned to their pension fund.

PLAN TO PUT LIMIT ON HIGH SALARIES IN U.S.

Washington.—Action to limit high salaries of big business leaders in the United States was privately forecast in official circles after the federal trade commission announced it was asking 2,000 companies to furnish data on the salaries of their executives and directors.

Following President Roosevelt's inquisitive glance at movie salaries, the commission's inquiry was described in informed circles as a prelude to more definite action.

The Senate resolution instigating the commission ordered the federal reserve board to obtain salary data from all member banks in the reserve system, directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to report salaries paid by banks borrowing from it and instructed the federal power commission to learn about the compensation of public utility officials.

While no instigation has yet been formulated, some officials expressed the belief that continuous publication of salaries probably would have the effect of keeping them down.

A ruling by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation that no public money would be loaned to railroads whose executives were receiving $100,000 and over a year unless they cut their pay soon brought the compensation of three men well known in the railroad field down to the maximum allowed—$60,000.

Strangely large salaries are paid to insurance company heads, according to Alfred M. Best & Co., insurance reporters, who estimate that the average president's salary of the large companies is $135,000 per year.

U. S. FARMERS ISSUE A CALL TO GO ON STRIKE

St. Paul, Minn.—The United States farm revolt, apparently inspired by Governor William Langer's wheat embargo proclamation, flared anew with the National Farm Holiday Association issuing a national farm strike call.

A secret meeting of directors of the association drafted the proclamation which laid down the following ultimatum:

"We will pay no taxes or in excess until we have first cared for our families.

"We will buy only that which completely necessitates demands.

"We will stay in the homes which we now occupy.

"We will not sell our products unless we receive the cost of production but will exchange our products with labor and the unemployed for the things we need on the farm, on the basis of cost of production for both parties."

The directors decreed that the strike "will remain in operation until our farm products bring the cost of production and until we are re-financed under the terms of the Frazier bill."

The association directors declared the "monied interests" of the country, in their judgment, "will dominate the government" in which was lost "not by any single act but by a long series of acts."

"We will stand ready to support the administration in any program that will recognize the farmers' fundamental right to ask for and receive the cost of production for that portion of farm products consumed in the United States," the proclamation set forth.

"When prices of other commodities and services were being fixed by codes we asked for a code for agriculture. Instead of being granted a code we were given wheat reduction and production cuts. Instead of a cotton reduction plan, food and necessities of human life are being destroyed in the midst of starvation and human need."

"We condemn such destruction as being criminal."

End Strike

Stratford, Ont.—First sign of cleavage of the deadlock which has existed between 800 striking Stratford furniture workers and their employers appeared when it was officially announced the workers at the Preston-Neeling Company—one of the largest affected by the strike—and their employees had reached an amicable settlement.

The announcement in the form of a formal statement, was handed out by James Preston, president of the firm, after he had been in conference with the shop committee.

Labor Party Gains In Norway

Recent Elections Give Them Twenty-Two New Seats

Oslo, Norway.—A platform of unemployment relief and opposition to big business had carried the Labor Party to big gains in the Norwegian political picture.

Labor emerged from the elections in which 18 parties competed for votes with 22 new seats in parliament and a total of 69.

Conservatives, who lost 10 seats, retained 31; the Liberals, losing nine, 24, and the Agrarians, losing three, 22.

Selective Reciprocity

Victoria, B.C.—The best thing Prime Minister Bennett could do for British Columbia would be a reciprocity treaty with the United States affecting lumber, fish and copper, stated T. D. Pattullo, provincial Liberal leader, in an address. "This," he said, "would bring back 65 per cent. of our lumber market, put more money in our fishermen's pockets and revive the copper mining industry."

Canadian Legion Convention

Ottawa, Ont.—A Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion, to be held "as soon as convenient" and during the next session of parliament, has been decided on by the executives of that organization who have been in session in Ottawa during the past few days. Probabilities are that the convention will take place in Ottawa in January or February.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Oct. 19.—Mr. R. Silocks has been confined to the house for some days, due to an attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Clarke, and Mr. and Mrs. V. Turner were Lethbridge visitors during the week.

The funeral of Mrs. M. Ferby was held on Friday. Service was conducted at the Catholic church by Rev. Father Donovan. The remains were laid to rest in the Hillcrest cemetery.

A very successful whist drive was held, under the auspices of the C.W.L., at the home of Mrs. F. Balkwill. Honors were won by Mrs. D. Grant and Mrs. P. McNeil, ladies' first and second; Mrs. W. Rose and F. McNeall, gents' first and second.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lesson returned to their home in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Fisher, senior, of Bellevue, is guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fisher here.

October 25.—Mrs. F. Zboya passed away on Sunday evening last from a heart failure attack. Her husband died three years ago. She is survived by four daughters and two sons.

Rene Bosetti is a patient in the local hospital.

Annie Tesolini underwent an operation for appendicitis at the local hospital this week, and is progressing favorably.

Mrs. K. McTeer, of Trail, B.C., was a visitor in Hillcrest last week, the guest of her mother, Mrs. D. Small.

Mrs. G. B. Rose received word on Sunday that her stepfather, Mr.

Stockdale, of Lethbridge, had passed away. Mrs. Rose left for Lethbridge Monday.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Oct. 19.—Wilfred Fortier left on Tuesday night's passenger train for San Francisco, California, to attend the funeral of his mother. Mrs. Fortier was one of the first pioneers to settle in the Cowley district, coming with her husband from the province of Quebec in early days, and homesteading on the bare prairie on what proved to be a mile west of Cowley, where they prospered in mixed farming, and reared a healthy family of fourteen children. Mrs. Fortier was predeceased several years by her husband.

For the past week, Robert Littleton has been acting as guide to a party of men from Kimberley, B.C., who have been on a hunting holiday trip here.

A whist drive in aid of the Red Cross was held in the Masonic hall Monday, the air was alive with the won as follows: ladies' first, Mrs. Wilfred Fortier; consolation, Mrs. Will Tustian; gents' first, Joe Wilson; consolation, W. E. Tustian.

Oct. 25.—Mrs. I. Christie entertained the Cowley ladies at bridge at her home on Friday night. At this gathering, it was agreed that bridge parties be held at intervals of two weeks throughout the winter.

There has been an increase of 1,941,670 pounds, of 23.31%, in months at private homes, with the first of the series being held at the home of Mrs. Gerald Bradshaw. Two prizes will be given at each drive, as compared with the corresponding period in 1932.

Miss Constance Smith, one of the officials of the Calgary branch of the C.G.I.T., made a visit here on Tuesday, with the hope of reorganizing a Cowley group. On reviewing conditions, she found the situation to be quite hopeful with the twelve enthusiastic girls who attended the meeting.

Over a period of a week, around two and a half feet of snow fell here, and at present writing is disappearing fast under the force of a chinook wind.

MIGRATING BIRDS PERISH

The Pas, Man., October 23.—On a little strip of earth along the right-of-way of the Canadian National Railways in The Pas are ten tiny graves surrounded by little stones. The little graves were made by children, who buried more than 100 birds that dropped to earth during the autumn migration to warmer climates.

The birds were American warblers, often called wild canaries. Their nesting grounds are in the Hudson Bay region. Last week they started south in flocks of hundreds, an even thousands. On Sunday night and in the early hours before dawn on Wednesday night, prizes were won as follows: ladies' first, Mrs. Wilfred Fortier; consolation, Mrs. Will Tustian; gents' first, Joe Wilson; consolation, W. E. Tustian.

There has been an increase of 1,941,670 pounds, of 23.31%, in the importation of Canadian tobacco into the United Kingdom during the first six months of the present year, as compared with the corresponding period in 1932.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By EDNA ROBB WEBSTER

Author of "Joretta," "Lipstick Girl" Etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt, young and beautiful commercial artist, and Peter Anson, a young architect, meet at a social class and fall in love. She is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family, but she is not to share in their fortune when she comes of age. They are engaged to be married. "My marriage or career?" and Camilla does not want to tie Peter down when he has so much promise as a sculptor. Peter is engaged to be married to Gertie Matson, Peter's roommate, who is jealous of Peter's success, takes Camilla out on the town to tell her "something about the girls." Peter is a cheat, that he only wants her money, and that he, Gertie, loves her himself. At the moment Peter appears to be a scoundrel and Gertie to be a good girl. On the way home from the party Camilla tells Peter they are going to do something about their problem.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XIV.

"We are going to be married, soon, Peter, darling," Camilla told him. "Why--why, honey, we shouldn't dare to!" incredulous. "Afraid, Peter?" "For myself? No, of course not." "For whom?" "Why--for you! I couldn't take care of you--until you succeeded." "I couldn't let you do that," he protested with finality. "Why couldn't you, Peter? I have to do that, anyway, whether I am your wife or not. Why can't I be your wife, too?" "My wife!" he repeated, with awe. "You would--take that chance, dear, before I have proved to you that I can do anything worth while?" "I'd take bigger chances than that to have you and your love. Why not? Where is the risk?" "Well--suppose I failed, after all? Suppose I never really amount to much?"

"You would still be you," gently. "Yes, I suppose so." "Peter, it's you I love and want. Nothing else makes a lot of difference to me, except that I want for you everything that you want to be, for your sake as much as mine."

"Sweetheart!" he gave her a double demonstration of his appreciation. "What a girl!" he exclaimed and laughed tremulously. She clung to him, weak with emotion and reluctant to leave the sweet ecstasy with which it filled her. She was part of the night, its beauty and silence and fragrance, there in his arms with his lips upon hers.

"Don't let me go!" she whispered. "I wish I needn't--ever!" vehemently.

Then why don't you want to marry me soon?"

"There's still a bit of difference to either of us financially. We shall live just as we had planned before we met."

"But I can't even provide you a decent place to live," helplessly.

"You won't need to. I just told you that we'll live exactly as we had planned before, except that we shall be kind to each other."

"You mean--not even live together?"

"That would be fatal to your work, Peter, and the last thing we should think of doing. I shouldn't consider living with you until you are established. You must not think of taking up the responsibilities of a home until then. But that need not keep from finding a little happiness."

"That isn't the way it should be," he objected. "You are so stubborn, darling," she said. "Not the way it should be, but better than nothing, isn't it? Better than waiting for years--and years--" wistfully.

"You almost convince me," he drew her close again, eagerly. "Are you sure you wouldn't regret it? I can't tell you how much it would mean to me!"

"You needn't, because I know. But I'll marry you, Peter, only on my terms--that you are to assume no responsibilities whatever, and that we shall live apart until you can afford to take care of me. It is your turn I am thinking of, Peter."

"More than of me?"

"Of course not. After us, but it means everything to us, doesn't it?"

"That's right."

"Suppose we had to wait five years--ten--to have each other--for love--with one long embrace, she gave him her first voluntary kiss before she continued, "but thousands of a few stupid dollars that we should need, to live together in the regular way that convention follows?"

"I know. I suppose it would be impossible, anyway," he admitted. "We are not children. You are almost twenty-one, and I am twenty-five. Camilla. We should know what we are doing. But if you insist on not taking care of yourself, why not, but like other fifty-fifty marriages?"

"Two of us of these fail, Peter. No, if we marry, our problem requires an individual solution. When a girl tries to be a business woman, a wife and a housekeeper, she almost always fails in one of the three, and that one is usually in being a wife. It would be even worse for a man like you."

"In the first place, you would work alone and have more time to brood over trifles. You are sensitive and would feel your irresponsibility more than the average man. If we lived together, your studio would have to be our home. When I rushed off to my office-hour job and neglected anything, you would feel that you should do the work because your work led you to no definite hours. More and more, you would become the mat in home wearing the apron and feeling sorry for your tired working wife. No, Peter, it never would do for us to live together until you have made good."

"How can you be in love and yet so practical?" he wondered with ten- der amusement.

"That's not being as practical as it sounds," she laughed softly. "Most of all, I want to keep the romance of our marriage, Peter. We can just go on being lovers--having the excitement and expectation of seeing each other after days of separation. Our holidays--they will be, such happy holidays when we are together for a little while. And those hours together will be so much more precious to us housekeeping problems and worries. We shall meet and part as strange lovers. Won't that be much more romantic?"

"But the parting?" he objected.

"You're not a bit like Romeo are you? You know he said that parting is such sweet pleasure."

"What did he know about it? He never part from you."

She laughed happily and they kissed again. Presently, she said slowly,

OLD PEOPLE FEEL YOUNG

Just because more years than you care to count have fled by, your life's calendar is no reason for feeling old. Age is not a matter of years. It is a matter of health. Stay vigorous and you stay young. But how, you ask. Do it the way the old timers did it for many years do. Take Wincarnis regularly. Wincarnis is a delicious wine, free from drugs, that brings you all the pleasure of a good meal, with the highest grade beef and guaranteed meat extract. Its invigorating effect is almost magical--yet natural.

These valuable elements in Wincarnis give your aging system exactly the invigorating nourishment it requires. They help you never tire, never bleed, and flood your body with almost youthful buoyancy and courage.

More than 20,000 medical men have heartily endorsed Wincarnis. It is a great tonic. It will make you feel young again by creating for you a store of strength and energy. Get Wincarnis from your druggist. Sales Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto. 30

There's another thing about our waiting for years and years to marry. Do you remember what you said that first night we talked together, about wanting a thing as intensely and so long that finally when you could have it, you didn't want it?"

"Why, Camilla, you don't mean about wanting each other?"

"It could happen, Peter."

"Oh, sure, even lots of people who marry, change their minds about each other afterward. But not us."

"But that isn't what I mean. I don't think we ever could do that, if we have each other and share everything as we go along. We shall develop together then. But if we have to live on hope alone and go our separate ways, we may drift apart in our interests--and, well, and find that we are not what each other wanted. There's a phrase running in my mind that someone wrote, 'The sickening pang of hope deferred.' Doesn't that sound ominous?"

"Whatever it is, we are going to take no chances with it," Peter declared.

"I'm afraid, just as you said," she held him off suddenly. "I'm doing all the arguing about this. It sounds as if I were trying to make you marry me again--your will."

"Darling, you know that isn't true. You are only convincing me that you are willing to take a bigger chance with me than I have any right to ask of you. Yet I am selfish enough to ask you even though I love you better than anything in life," he told her tenderly.

"Because you love me better than anything in life," she corrected him. (To Be Continued.)

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

THE OLD ASSURANCE

Till winter's chill
Wife's fingers still
Till the ground is covered
With the snow of earth,
No heart can guess
The loneliness
Of summer's lyric mirth.

Until love goes
Nobody knows
Until the love gave the lays,
What charm it lent,
What blist content
I shed on all life's ways.

Yet, sweet, though soon
The flowers of June
In franklin did meet me,
I close keep near
And never fear
Our rose of love can die.

Scottish Troops Abroad

While the Essex Scottish, the Windsor Kilties, were at the Chicago's World's Fair one Chicago paper termed them the "Royal Canadian Guard" and the Tribune stated that the colonel had been specially sent from Buckingham Palace to represent King George. It's a wonder that the drum major was not designated as the Prince of Wales.

Launching Hunt For Fortune Of Castaway

Messages in Bottle Picked Up At Sea Afloat Only Clue

Two messages and a map in a bottle picked up on a lonely beach on the coast of Mexico have brought George P. Bradley to Washington to organize an expedition to seek for buried treasure.

The messages tell of a Robinson Crusoe castaway: Chinese pirates; shipwreck; escape with the treasure; the wait for death on a South Pacific isle.

So far, Bradley has found four people who are willing to take a chance on there being a buried loot on the other side of the world and have signed up under Bradley as an expedition.

The first message, dated August 18, 1897:

"To whoever finds this which I am about to cast into the sea--help--I am cast away on an island whose latitude is" (deleted by Bradley) "and longitude?"

"For three years I have been a prisoner of Chinese pirates and have raised several pearls and gold coins and have accumulated a vast amount of wealth, which I have saved from the wreck and buried under a rock on the south end of the island under a cross, over $40,000 worth of gold and silver coins and a stone jug over half full of pearls. Eleven perfect black pearls of immense size and 143 others that are over one-half inch in diameter. The rest are smaller."

"I am all alone and cannot live much longer. So I only ask the finder to give one of the black pearls and $10,000 of the money to my little daughter, Nellie Farley, who lives there with a Mrs. Susan McCarty, in Stockton, Cal. Find her, please, and the rest is yours, and may God bless you."

"JAMES FARLEY."

"Aug. 18, 1897."

"Second letter--with map reads:

"There is no water on this island, which is very small, and I have no hope for myself, but please help my little girl when you get what I have given."

"Many other valuable things are buried nearby. There are letters with the money that will tell you all."

"I am taking God my sufferings are over."

"Bradley says he has had the writing tested by a chemist in the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., who found it to be the same as that of the citizens of Napier, which they themselves had written to rebuild their city.

Today they have accomplished their self-appointed task. Upon the ruins of the old Napier a new city has arisen, the newest city in the world. Wide thoroughfares accommodating four lines of traffic; public buildings of the most up-to-date character; new factories, banks and hotels are to be seen on every hand. And the new city has been built with an eye to harmony of architectural design and with the object of associating a sense of security with a high standard of town-planning.

Narrow back streets have been eliminated. Telephone, telegraph and power standards have vanished from the streets into conduits. Napier stands today a credit to its indomitable spirit of the people of New Zealand, a model for others to copy who are busy building cities within the Empire. Town planning, well directed and controlled did it. Montreal.

Legend Of A Jewel

Famous Koh-i-Nor Diamond Has Strange History

The legend of that if a British king ever wears the Koh-i-Nor diamond, India will be lost forever to the British Empire, is related in "Jewels of Romance and Renown" by Miss Mary Abbott.

When the gem, said to have adorned the sword of the warrior Afrasias in 5000 B.C. was given to Queen Victoria after the annexation of the Punjab in 1856, the East India Company hinted that they would like her to wear it as a piece of her personal jewelry rather than in the crown jewels.

So Queen Victoria bequeathed the Koh-i-Nor to her son King Edward, but to his wife, Queen Alexandra, and gradually the legend grew up that if a king-emperor wore the jewel, India would be lost to the British Empire forever.

Coal Well Preserved

Evidently dropped by a voyager more than a century ago, a copper coin or token struck in the year 1816 in honor of Sir Isaac Brock, has been recovered from the river bed of Belleville. The token was in perfect condition, having been well preserved in the silt at the bottom of the stream.

The King and Queen, who have so many tastes in common, do not share the same views about long train journeys. Her Majesty is said to dislike travelling by night, while the King considers it waste of time to travel in the daytime.

New Zealand Citizens Accomplish Big Task

Have Rebuilt City of Napier Destroyed by Earthquake

On February 3rd, 1931, the City of Napier, in New Zealand, was completely destroyed by an earthquake which brought its buildings down in piles of wood, brick and stone. Its 21,000 odd inhabitants, who had just begun to experience the benefits of settlement in one of the Dominion's least towns, were ruined, their houses and their means of earning a living were swept away simultaneously.

Earthquake and fire demolished both public and private buildings. The Sunday after the quake a great public rally was held in the city hall at which the citizens of Napier pledged themselves to rebuild their city.

Today they have accomplished their self-appointed task. Upon the ruins of the old Napier a new city has arisen, the newest city in the world. Wide thoroughfares accommodating four lines of traffic; public buildings of the most up-to-date character; new factories, banks and hotels are to be seen on every hand. So Queen Victoria bequeathed the Koh-i-Nor to her son King Edward, but to his wife, Queen Alexandra, and gradually the legend grew up that if a king-emperor wore the jewel, India would be lost to the British Empire forever.

Legend Of A Jewel

Famous Koh-i-Nor Diamond Has Strange History

The legend of that if a British king ever wears the Koh-i-Nor diamond, India will be lost forever to the British Empire, is related in "Jewels of Romance and Renown" by Miss Mary Abbott.

When the gem, said to have adorned the sword of the warrior Afrasias in 5000 B.C. was given to Queen Victoria after the annexation of the Punjab in 1856, the East India Company hinted that they would like her to wear it as a piece of her personal jewelry rather than in the crown jewels.

So Queen Victoria bequeathed the Koh-i-Nor to her son King Edward, but to his wife, Queen Alexandra, and gradually the legend grew up that if a king-emperor wore the jewel, India would be lost to the British Empire forever.
